2010 SUMMER PROGRAM AT OLPH

“A Study of the Great Masters”

Summer school is an opportunity for students to build on their skills learned in school, to prepare for the coming year, and to have some unique experiences that may not be available to them during the regular sessions. In the program there is an emphasis on reading and math skills. Students are given opportunities to experience life skills, environmental education, art & science, physical education (including swimming lessons) as well as a variety of field trips and many more events that both challenge and excite students about learning. At OLPH summer school is for all students, those in need of remediation, those needing to stay in touch with learning and those students looking for enrichment that stretch the imagination...the talented and gifted student.
